

Xiao Juan and Residents from the Valley - My Home:

Wang Juan is an independent singer with a spectacular voice who has drifted from band to band and genre to genre over the years. Known as Xiao Juan to her fans, she first came to our attention as lead singer of the electronica duet Gemini Trip. Lately, she has traded that in for something closer to folk.

The video below is the only one she has ever made to our knowledge. As with her previous songs, this one is characterized by a simple and repetitive refrain. And the lyrics are easy but sweet: a love song about her home, and the lover who has made it just for her.

If you are in China and have the chance to see Wang Juan live you should seize it. She performs regularly at the MIDI festival in Beijing, and makes frequent appearances at Mao Club by Nanluoguxiang.
